Secretary Clinton to Deliver Remarks on Internet Freedom

On Thursday, January 21, 2010 at 9:30 a.m. EST (10:30 a.m. local time), Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton will deliver remarks on Internet Freedom at the Newseum, in Washington, D.C.

Secretary Clinton's policy address will lay-out the Administration's strategy for protecting freedom in the networked age of the 21st Century. Following her speech, there will be a panel discussion on this issue.

The US Embassy urges Guyanese to participate, either by watching a high quality video stream of the speech and panel discussion or by submitting questions and comments while viewing, at: <http://netfreedom.state.gov>. From here, you may choose the high quality video option or the interactive CO.NX room. No password is necessary. Enter as a guest and type the username of your choice. The remarks will also be live-streamed on www.state.gov
